MARRIAGE

Laing—Valetsko

A pretty wedding took place on Tuesday evening in the Naarene Mission when Miss Mary Valetsko became the bride of Mr. Chester Laing, the Rev. Eggleston of Lethbridge performing the ceremony.

King and Meighen Governments Both Defeated

No Comparison Can Be Made

There are many ways in which the Heritage Brothers Big Three Ring Trained Wild Animal Circus differs from other circuses, and a visit to this monster tent enterprise when it comes to Clareholm on Tuesday, July 6, will cause people who have been complaining that all the shows were equal to qualify this statement by adding "excepting the Heritage Brothers Circus."

The union of two large circuses resembles other tented enterprises inasmuch as the performance is given under a tent. When it comes to circus acts themselves it differs widely from other institutions which are heralded as "great" shows.

The menagerie is more than twice as large as that carried by other circuses. The only manhrill in captivity is in this department. The only hybrid lion-tiger, with the tiger's stripes on the lion's skin, is another rare feature.

Heritage Brothers Big Three Ring Trained Wild Animal Circus gives a big street parade at noon each day, with all cages open, showing you the most wonderful collection of "cat" animals ever exhibited.

Owing To Increase In Population World May Soon Be Facing A Very Serious Food Shortage

Soy beans, peanuts and bananas may rank among the world's most important sources of food, and the consumption of them will increase tremendously in the next century, thinks Dr. Samuel C. Prescott, head of the department of biology at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Speaking on "The World's Food Supply—Its Sources and Preservation," Dr. Prescott recalled that natural scientists, looking 100 years into the future, are already searching the earth for new sources of food and seeking means of conserving the known sources to avert a shortage in the next century.

It is estimated, he said, that the United States with a population of approximately 110,000,000 now, produces only enough food to feed a population of about 14,000,000. He said that the world's population has doubled in 60 years, he pointed out is an indication of the importance of losing no time in finding new sources of food and using the present supply more effectively.

The first great revelation in the world's food supply will come in meat, Dr. Prescott declared, in forecasting that the present generation may live to see a great proportion of its meat coming from the tundras of the Arctic and the countries of the tropics, where the goat and some types of cattle can be raised.

Land in the temperate zone now used for cattle raising will in the future be given over to other agricultural purposes wherever soil conditions and water supply will permit. Corn will probably be the most important food crop in the future, and additional use will be made of grains now often scorned, he said. Already in the tropics, rice is being made from bananas, which have practically the same nutritive value as potatoes, and corn will find use in connection with cereals in supplying carbohydrates, according to Dr. Prescott.

Advantages Of Egg Grading Results In Stronger Demand and Better Prices

The advantages of egg grading are becoming more apparent every day. It is resulting in a rapidly increased per capita consumption. According to officers of the Dominion live stock branch this increased consumption has amounted to an increase of one egg per person in the last five years, and during that period prices have become more uniform and more profitable to producers than ever before. The great increase in the way of increased production in the past has been the fact that the egg producer found to be good was no criterion of what the next would be. Grading has resulted in a definite product thereby increasing the demand and maintaining the price.

Likes Canadian Cattle

Shipment of Steers Pleases a Former Opponent of Cattle Trade in Britain

Col. H. A. Mullins (Conservative, Margate) said in the House of Commons that he had received a letter from Lord Haldane, under-secretary of state for agriculture in the British Government, stating that he had received 100 Canadian steers and that he was very much pleased with them. Lord Haldane was formerly an enemy of the cattle trade.

Colonel Mullins asked if anything was being done to facilitate the transportation of Canadian cattle. Mr. Mathewson said that everything possible was being done. New plans were now afoot and later developments might be expected.

Fox Farming In Manitoba

Fox farming has been making considerable progress in the Brandon district during the past couple of years. Two large ranches are now located quite close to Brandon, in which a large sum of money has been invested. A syndicate has about 17 pairs of silver foxes, while a pool has about 17 pairs of the same kind and has made on a newly established ranch.

May Benefit Agriculture

Discovery Made By Member of Staff of the University of Alberta

A discovery which may be of far-reaching consequence to practical agriculture, especially to the cultivation of oats, has been made by Leonard Huskins, member of the staff of the University of Alberta, according to a memorandum in the London Daily Telegraph. Working under Professor Gates, of the department of botany at King's College, Cambridge, on the subject of genetics and cytology of oats, Mr. Huskins is said to have established the fact that "falsehood" or "false seed" is a special type of mutation brought about by a loss of hereditary material known as chromosomes, and by an interchange of certain portions of them.

It is considered that as a result of Mr. Huskins' discovery the line of research for the total eradication of falsehoods should be fairly open. Mr. Huskins is holder of one of the three scholarships offered annually in Canada by the Imperial Royal Commission for the Exhibition of 1925.

Britain Is Famous For Pedigree Stock

One Industry In Which Country Reigns

There is one industry—the breeding of pedigree stock—in which Britain remains supreme. From plan to pasture in Canada by the Dominion live stock branch, British breeds are acknowledged to be the best in the world and are bought by the best of the world's breeders. During 1925 the Russian Government bought from British breeders 250 pedigree ewes.

England has always been famous for her cattle and her sheep. Nearly 200 years ago huge oxen were produced from an ox that was 19 hands high and four yards long, and that was in 1643. At that date Leicestershire sheep were already obtained a great reputation and fetched big prices. The market value of New South Wales, one of which recently yielded 45½ pounds of wool at a clip, are of purely British descent.

England Improving Highways

Blossoming Trees Transform Main Roads Into Shady Avenues

A vision of highways transformed into shady avenues of flowering trees is created by the suggested improvement for the new arterial roads that are appearing in all parts of England. When these were first constructed, the roads were straight and bare. As many as three hundred cases of cases a day are being received and Saskatchewan is a country where the combined daily receipts of all other provincial branches.

Impressed With Canada's Wealth

Resources Worth Working For Says Duke of Athol

The Duke of Athol, under secretary of state for education, who has returned to London from a tour of Canada, is considerably impressed with the latent wealth of the Dominion.

In an interview the Duke said that while Canada was already a great and wealthy country, the resources yet to be developed were well worthy of all the toil and sweat and blood of the British empire could devote to it.

On conclusion which had been formed on her trip, she said, was the paramount need in Canada for more male and female immigration of the "right sort."

"Yes," said the young writer, "I've not pretty deep into my new novel now."

"Ah," remarked his friend, "the plot is thickening, eh?"

"Yes, I guess it is," at any rate, I'm stuck."

"Does your husband talk in his sleep?"

"No," said she, "he's awfully exasperating. He only sniffs."

Manitoba Farm Boys' Camp

Party of Ninety Boys From Rural Manitoba to Attend Brandon Fair

Arrangements are well under way to entertain at the Provincial Exhibition, Brandon, a party of ninety boys from all parts of rural Manitoba. The party is composed of three boys, ranging from fourteen to fifteen years of age representing their respective districts, at the third annual Farm Boys' Camp, which is one of the leading features at the provincial exhibition.

This year the camp will open the evening of Tuesday, June 29th, and will continue until Friday evening. While in camp the boys will be the guests of the exhibition board.

The livestock judging competition, which is a feature of the camp, will commence Wednesday morning. Classes of horses, beef and dairy cattle, sheep and swine, will be judged by the boys.

The McKelvey Cup, which is competed for annually goes to the team scoring highest. Gold medals donated by the Manitoba department of agriculture will be awarded to each member of the winning team; silver medals to the second highest team. Liberal cash prizes will be offered to the highest in each class of stock.

Mr. James A. Richardson, of the Winnipeg Farm Exchange, has donated a handsome gold watch for the boy with the highest aggregate score and a silver watch to the second highest aggregate.

On the evening of the judging competition, an interesting programme will be arranged. This will include an evening on the grandstand, an opportunity of seeing all departments of the exhibition, a visit to the Dominion experimental farm, and points in and out of the exhibition.

Entries have been received from some twenty-five points throughout the province. Some of the new points entering a team for the first time include Grosse Ile, Swan River, Griswold, Oakville, Chateaufort, Lethbridge, Morris and Neepawa.

Egg-Laying Contests

Improvement Brought About By Better Selection of Individual Birds

The Canadian national egg-laying contests have been in operation for six years. In a survey of the birds in his latest report the Dominion poultry husbandman states that the average production in the last year was 122 eggs per hen as compared with 122½ eggs in the 1919-20 contest. This striking improvement was in a large degree brought about by better selection of individual birds used in the contest, choosing pullets of proper age and development, advanced methods of breeding, and improved contest management. Production costs in the contests show that the average bird brings a net income of $2.80, which is a fairly good profit.

Saskatchewan Egg Pool

The new Saskatchewan Egg Pool within one week shipped from the Saskatchewan—within seven carloads of eggs to Montreal and western points. As many as three hundred cases of eggs a day are being received and Saskatchewan is a country where the combined daily receipts of all other provincial branches.

Pleasure Tours Instead of Train Trips During English Strike

Not even a general strike involving some four million workers interfered with Canadian Pacific Railway travel to tourists during the English strike.

The company's office, Trafalgar Square, London, for Liverpool, on Thursday, May 6. The motor cars ran on regular train time schedules, giving the travellers ample time to make the usual arrangements. All of the travellers visited the motor trip through England well worth while.

At its best in May, old England presents a beautiful scene of rolling down, shady roads and charming views, affording a two hundred mile pleasure tour instead of a mere trip.

In order to carry out all obligations to patrons the Dominion Express Company had a complete fleet of motor coaches chartered to deliver and receive shipments during the strike.

Men resemble whales. They no longer get to the top than they begin to blow.

Profitable Lamb Feeding

Winlose Man's Method For Preparing Stock For Market

"Dying right and selling to advantage are only half the battle in profitable lamb feeding," F. D. Lloyd of Sycamore, Ill., says. He fattens 600 lambs a year on his 20-acre farm. For the first thirty days it costs little to put on ten pounds of gain per head. The lambs have the run of cornfield, meadow, pasture and stubble, and are fed up to the point where they would go to waste. At night they get a handful of barley and a little clover or alfalfa hay. If the rustling in good the lambs don't care for much other feed.

After thirty days I shut them up in feed barley and hay. During the last six weeks I feed a little corn. Usually they top the market if they have had a start while on rough feed.

As a rule I keep lambs four to five months, depending upon the market. The market is the best guide. They weigh about 80 pounds, the size liked best by buyers. If the market gets to acting up during the feeding period because of the first cheap ten pounds, I'm in position to dump them at the original price, or even a little less, and still be ahead."

Adds To Land Values

Alberta May Tax Farms Past Which Telephone Wires Are Strung

The Alberta Government has suggested a tax on the pole lines which telephone wires are strung, and there has been quite an outcry against the proposal. Why, says one, should a farmer pay for something which he does not want in order to help another man secure a pole? But the phone boys point out that often the pole line may pass many unused farms which are held for speculative purposes and as the running of the telephone pole these farms certainly add to their value, why should they not pay for the added value? It is significant that the United Farmers of Alberta have placed their imprimatur upon the proposal, and it will probably become law.

Excellent Ranching District

Shipments of Cattle Sent 600 Miles North Edmonton

A large number of cattle were sent this spring to the Fort Fitzgerald district, 600 miles north of Edmonton. They were taken by train to McMurray and thence by boat to their destination. Although the Fitzgerald district is far north, on the limits of Alberta's boundary, it contains an excellent ranching and ranching area and has been proved suitable for the raising of livestock. This will be Canada's farthest north ranching district.

Alberta Sands For Paving Purposes

Definite arrangements for testing the McMurray sands for paving purposes have again been entered into between the Edmonton civic authorities and Thomas Fraser, owner of extensive holdings in the north. The experiments to be made last summer will again be performed.

Had news and soft-boiled eggs should be broken gently.

Points The Way To A Stronger National Sentiment And A Stronger Canadianism

Lights Farm Tasks

Pittsburg Farmers Cultivate Crops to Music of Radio

Farmers and commuters in the southern border of Pennsylvania are cultivating their crops to the music of radio. No longer is there a question of keeping the hired man in the fields till sundown—now when he can play his job in time to his favorite jazz. No longer do the boys run off to the village when the baseball season and made by the land is carried to them by the loud speaker erected in the farmhouse.

In Western Pennsylvania the sun is still high in the sky and it is but late morning on the farm when the farm stations begin their programmes. They should the music be lost? The farm life plays the receiving set on the wheelbarrow, erect a temporary aerial, draw an iron pin in the soft ploughed earth for a ground and tune in.

The craze for outdoor radio reception has spread and cabinet sets are readily transported from the houses to the barns, the fields and the woods. Music keeps the boys at work, the farmers say, and the commuters, who fill their gardens and flower pots, do not miss the programmes to which they were accustomed during the winter.

Canada Could Extend Market

British Honduras and Other Southern Countries Would Buy Canadian Products

Canadian manufacturers are looking much by not paying more attention to their Central and South American trade, in the opinion of his excellency Mr. A. A. Borden, C.M.G., governor of British Honduras, who spent a day at the Fort Garzy Hotel, Winnipeg, recently. His excellency called attention to the fact that Canada exports very little outside of what products to the countries on the equator, and stated that the United States and Germany are selling goods there which might well be sent from Canada. People in those countries, and in British Honduras especially, would buy Canadian goods if they were offered in the right way to be sent, but so far Canadian merchants have not gone to the trouble to present their goods in a manner which appeals. While 58 per cent of the flour used in British Honduras is from the Canadian west, there is an appalling scarcity of other goods, he said.

Real Estate Values

The United States paid $205 an acre for the Virgin Islands, $150 an acre for the Canal Zone, 25 cents for the Philippines and 2 cents for Alaska—Borden independent.

Brazil uses convict labor in much of its road construction.

Mr. James Atkins Is One of Canada's Constructive Speakers and His Address to the Members of the Montreal Junior Bar Is a Notable and Noteworthy Contribution to the Building of a Stronger National Sentiment and a Stronger Canadianism

Mr. James Atkins is one of Canada's constructive speakers and his address to the members of the Montreal Junior Bar is a notable and noteworthy contribution to the building of a stronger national sentiment and a stronger Canadianism. There is no pursuit and no action that does not require united operation, and national cooperation in Canada can be effected only through the different sections and different classes striving to understand one another's conditions of life and work, and trying to realize as far as possible one another's point of view. Mr. James Atkins' speech displays a disposition to direct every possible means to this end. He finds in the old provinces of Quebec and Ontario inspirations of spirits, visions of hope that as they are realized will enhance the greatness, progress and prosperity of the Dominion. His kind sentiments, he tells us, are being firmly fixed in the minds of young Canadians.

Modern Highway Across Canada

All-Canadian Road From Halifax To Vancouver Before End of Year

Four different governments have at last heeded the call for an all-Canadian highway stretching from Halifax, N.S., to Vancouver, B.C. Four governments have met on equal ground, and each has pledged the completion of the necessary work. Ontario says: "We are already completing our last remaining link." Alberta is to have its link ready this year. The Dominion Government, speaking for the National Park, states that it will link up with Alberta this year, and British Columbia, the last to fall into line declares, "When the latter highway reaches Tete Jaune Cache, British Columbia will have a ready road to carry it on to Vancouver." It will be possible to turn across Canada on a modern highway before the end of the present year.

Stone Age Weapons Efficient

Recently Discovered in England Have Edge Keen As Razor

An arsenal was discovered some months ago in the neighborhood of Chatham, England, believed to have been used by cavemen millions of years ago. Two local men made the discovery about sixteen months ago, and since then about four thousand hammer stones, flint axes and scrapers, and other worked flints, have been taken out of the dump. The tools and weapons, although they belong to the earliest period of the Stone Age, are wonderfully efficient. Some of the edges are still almost as keen as razors.

A Health Item Of Interest

A New and Effective Method of Promoting Health

It will be good news to our readers that they now have available a most effective means of promoting health in the home by eliminating the diseases that are transmitted by flies and mosquitoes. Filth, the carrier of insecticide which has been perfected by the Standard Oil Company of N.J. is now obtainable in Canada at almost any drug store, hardware store or grocery store.

For years the research laboratories of the Standard Oil Company of N.J. were engaged in developing a type of insecticide that would be clean, safe and easy to use.

At last their expert entomologist and chemists succeeded in perfecting a thoroughly scientific product superior to the old pesticide killing insects, in that it kills all of them that come anywhere in the neighborhood of the application of the spray, and that it is very quick and sure in its action.

Having found this wonderful answer to the insecticide problem, they called it "Filth" and under this name it has attained a huge sale in the United States, and is in fact widely recognized as an aid to home health, by reason of those qualities which make it sure death, not only to flies and mosquitoes, but also to moths, ants, bedbugs and roaches. This wonderful product is now on sale in all parts of Canada.

Sprayed into cracks and crevices where insects hide and breed, Filth destroys both the insects and their eggs. An added advantage is that Filth will not stain the most delicate fabrics. This has been proved by extensive tests.

Wins High Art Award

Armless Japanese Girl Carried Off Honors in School Exhibition

A Japanese girl, handicapped by the loss of both arms, but possessed of great courage, astonished Tokio art circles by carrying off the honors of the Peersness' school exhibition. Holding specially constructed brushes between her teeth, Miss Yonoka Yamaguchi, the armless artist, has for several years painted oil, the decorative work worn by all Japanese women. Some of her work at the exhibit sold for as much as $500.

Always Ready and Reliable.—Practically all pains arising from inflammation can be removed with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Simply rub it on the sore spot and it is quickly absorbed by the skin. Its healing power is conveyed to the inflamed tissue which is quickly soothed. This fine old remedy is also a specific for all manner of cuts, scratches, bruises and sprains. Keep a bottle handy always.

Plans Aerial Expedition

Engineer Antonio Pualy, of Buenos Aires, has presented to the ministry of the navy plans for an Argentine aerial expedition to the South Pole and an extensive scientific exploration of the Antarctic continent.

ON THE AIR

What is Doing in the World of Radio

There has been quite a boom in wireless sets in Paris since the general strike in England, especially among English-speaking residents who used them to get their news.

Many persons are suffering from radio deafness because they listen for many hours without removing the ear phones. An ear specialist advises the use of loud speakers.

Com.—The radio will never take the place of newspapers.

Com.—You can't start a fire or line a carpet with a radio set.

Many broadcasting stations are now making public their advertising rates. One United States broadcast station has a rate ranging from $30 for a quarter of an hour during the day to $120 for one hour at night.

Tauligne, the famous priest and scientific electrical engineer, who is noted in France for his inventions as well as his sermons, has just completed what he claims is the first really perfected loud speaker for crystal sets.

Art encephalons for radio are best in February, the next best being March, January and November. Commercial wireless service inaugurated by James H. Brail, is in touch with London, New York, Paris, Berlin and Rome.

Sonia Radina, radio artist, has invented musical manuscripts for gramophone. She spent four years living with the peasants of Europe, listening to their folk songs and copying them by candle light. She uses these manuscripts for her radio concerts.

Electric power men from all parts of Wisconsin have pledged themselves not only to eliminate power line interference of radio reception, but to install the radio set owners in finding the source of much of the other outside troubles such as violent ray machines, X-rays and such.

When a radio receiving license is granted to a listener in Japan his set is tuned to the wave length of the Tokyo Municipal Broadcast Station, then he is asked so that no other station may be tuned in. It is reported that this is done in order that no radical ideas can be picked up by put on the air by secret broadcast stations.

Many people have the mistaken notion that the resistance of headphones is a measure of their quality. Actually, radio headphones of 2,500 ohms resistance may be much better than others of 5,000 ohms resistance. The resistance is determined by the length, size and kind of wire used in their construction. Their performance is a matter of proper engineering design and the use of good materials.

The Oil for the Athlete.—In rubbing down, the athlete will find Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, an excellent article. It renders the muscles and allows play and strengthens them for strains that may be put upon them. It stands prominently for this purpose, and athletes who for years have been using it can testify to its value as a lubricant.

World's Poultry Congress

The Belgian minister of agriculture has named official representatives to the World's Poultry Congress at Ottawa, July 27 to August 4, 1927. They are: M. Marchant, member of the House of Representatives, and president of the National Federation of Poultry Societies of Belgium; Louis Berge; M. Pulincx-Bourne, F. editor in chief of the Journal Chasse et Pêche; M. Hendrickx, Arch. Chasse et de Bruxelles, Leideberg.

To Develop More Power

Two million dollars will be expended by the Winnipeg Electric Company and its subsidiaries in making the necessary provision to obtain and utilize power from the hydro-electric plant at Great Falls during the next eight months, it is announced. A considerable proportion of this expenditure will be represented by large power machinery. It is stated.

THE STORY THIS FAR

Joanna, pretty ultra-modern shop girl, is informed by the employer, Graydon, that an unknown man has given her a million dollars as a bribe. There are no strings to the gift—no conditions to meet—she is not even to know the name of her benefactor. She endeavors in vain to learn more of the man, but Graydon, when she meets his nephew, Brandon, a man about her age, who helps her write her first check, tells her that he intends to make her his wife. Dated with the prospect of money, lured by the hope of shop girl companionship and the chance to win him also, spending her first fortune, Joanna believes in him. She goes the limit in securing the money, she returns home that night, expecting to meet John, her hopelessly "old-fashioned" girlhood sweetheart.

"Miss Twenty-seven" had become the slender waif of a hothouse flower, all perfume, softness and delicate color; beneath her silk wrap she shone vaguely gray; smart grey tailleur that felt strange from underneath her shoulders, but hugged her hips; skirt that drooped into straight lines without a touch of trimming or variegated pleats or color; a thing that was infinitely and expensively "average." She shone now of a quality that echoed into the very souls of Georgian and the rest. Slippers, garters that were wondrous things of some skin with the sheen of grey velvet! A ravishing little hat, grey with a splash of scarlet at the side. Graydon estimated the very simplicities of that hat as next door to being priceless.

A single flower, but that an orchid, nestled at Joanna's waist.

There was an immediate babel of voices, punctuated presently by the sharp reminder of an invisible customer that there were those with wants to be attended to.

"So you weren't home after all?" George exclaimed when she had summoned her wits. "Here we've

WOMAN COULD HARDLY WALK

Mrs. Hory Tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

Hamilton, Ont.—I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and would not be without it now. I had a female trouble as badly I could hardly walk. I was bed three or four days at a time. I was told by a friend to try your Vegetable Compound. I began by the time I took two bottles I was beginning to get around. I took six more bottles in a few days and now I am all right again and doing my own work. I have six children to look after, so I have plenty to do. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Food. I think it is good. But I owe my health to the Vegetable Compound. I always take it if more of it was used women would be better off. I would not think it if it cost much more. —Mrs. William H. Hays, 20 Matthews Avenue, Hamilton, Ontario.

Do you feel broken down, nervous and weak sometimes? Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is excellent to take at such times. It always helps, and it taken regularly and persistently, will relieve this condition. G.

you've got to wear your dresses lower, little daughter! That black satin you affect is all right, I guess, but when you get the real things that have come honest to goodness in style, then, why don't you need to wear them so skimpy to look your best. If you don't know what I mean, stay awake tonight and think it over. George, I'm giving you something, straight!"

"So straight it reminds me of a sermon to me," the other girl retorted. "And this isn't Sunday, either! But you've got a license all right, I suppose." It was a scintillating ban, but Joanna preferred not to take it up.

Joanna heard Mrs. Adams through half open doors tell other girls in the house that the drawing room has been assigned for the evening and heard the thoughtless chatter that there were lots of other wide open spaces in the world anyway. After a while, after she had resigned outright the idea of her new gown to George as an installment of tomorrow's promise, she thought she heard John come in the front door. She listened eagerly, lips hot, eyes shining and body trembling, but there was no call from Mrs. Adams. She felt again to examine herself in her bit of mirror, twisting and squinting to glimpse as much at one time as possible of her gorgeously soft shimmering evening gown, out of which her throat lifted round and white. She'd always had a fresh, athletic sleekness and a fairly even neck, but each of them, modest affairs, had made her hungry for something new—something that really would be new. At last! What the hell! That dress was to Joanna nobody but Joanna will ever know. She wouldn't admit it to herself, but she knew it, that thing that she had painted on a canvas or put into music, but never said in words.

She heard the rattle of the door-bell. She signed to George to be quiet and opened her door an inch or two. She heard Mrs. Adams answering an inquiry, and the voice she heard then was not John's, but the girl, motionless, one of her hands had met at the back of her head.

She heard Mrs. Adams' confusion. "Why, yes, I'll tell her you're coming for her," the puzzled lady was saying. "But I don't know whether to let you in the parlor to wait or not. There's someone—her friend—in there. I've just been talking to him about her. She doesn't know the lady's here yet."

And then Brandon's stave voice: "I am sure we will stop on famously, her—her friend and I. We'll talk about this, too, as we go, the very thing I'm sure to have brought her some flowers. Will you be good enough to hand them to her?"

Joanna heard Mrs. Adams leading him into the "drawing room only" and in her distant, blundering way murmured an introduction to John. Had thought she was right when she thought she heard him. And he and Mrs. Adams had been talking together all this time in muted whispering tones, she would not know—talking of her. And now Brandon, a man who she thought knew what was a good thing, had come, as he had lightly threatened, and John would see him. Brandon and John! She wanted to know John. She'd never realized before how much.

She didn't know why, but Joanna was afraid as she went down stairs to meet young and beautiful in her costly new gown, and so flushed from the day's exertions, but afraid. (To be continued.)

A demonstration of a method of producing cool light was given recently by a scientist at Manchester, Eng. by the process the electricity is changed to light without the luminous substance being heated in any way.

A Pessimistic Picture

Fears Women in United States Will Soon Be Ugly

Intelligence and beauty go together, and because the most intelligent section of the population is having small families, the American woman is coming ugly, states Albert Edward Young, scientific writer. The most intelligent 25 per cent. of the population are having only one or two children to a family, while the less intelligent, and ugliest, 25 per cent. are producing three or four.

"If this process goes on, beautiful women will soon be remembered only in pictures," he said. "And when beauty declines, intelligence, moral health, sanity and longevity all go with it, because all are linked with beauty."

Likely In Canada Too

Large Percentage of Earnings Spent on Motor Cars

It is only 25 years since the automobile emerged as a commercial product, and today the manufacturer of automobiles takes first place among American industries. The bureau of industrial technology estimates our annual automobile bill at $14,000,000,000. This makes an interesting comparison with the total business of our retail stores, which has been estimated at $25,000,000,000. Computations of this sort are obviously subject to a wide margin of error, but it seems safe to conclude that, roughly, for every dollar spent for food, clothing and house furnishings, we spend 40 cents on motor cars and their upkeep. —New York World.

Asparagus Used Centuries Ago

Culture of Plant Introduced into England During Reign of William III. Before the days of Henry VIII, vegetable gardens were not made in England. Asparagus, with its remarkable properties, was used as a food 2000 B.C., and though our Tudor ancestors ate the vegetable of the vegetable, asparagus, the culture of this plant was not introduced until the reign of William III, when Sir William Temple brought it from the Hague. The first asparagus was grown in England at Moor Park, where Jonathan Swift, the secretary, wrote to it in his Dutch style. "King William always ate the stalks whole," said Swift.

Could Not Remember

Wife's Christian Name

Elderly Farmer Had Never Used It in Addressing Her

In certain parts of rural England it is uncommon for a man to address his wife by her baptismal name, an illustration of which Thomas Hardy, the novelist, recently told the following story: An elderly farmer called in a lawyer and explained that he wished to make his will. The lawyer took out his fountain pen, and prepared to receive his client's instructions. "I'll leave all my brass to my wife," the farmer said. "We've been married thirty years." "What's your wife's Christian name?" asked the lawyer, making a note of the bequest. The farmer scratched his head, thought hard for several seconds, and finally said that he couldn't remember. The lawyer thought of a plan that would spur his memory. "Walk to the door," he suggested, "and shout upstairs as if you were calling her." The farmer did, and shouted, "Missus."

Microscopes Used in Detection of Crime

Reveals Many Things Naked Eye Would Never See

While Sherlock Holmes has been depicted as an inveterate user of the microscope—or common magnifying glass—his work of the kind was as nothing to that now being done in New York in the use of magnifying instruments in the detection of crime. Particles of dust and lint almost too fine to be noticed with the naked eye have been labeled with scenes of crime, after being taken from the persons of suspects.

A school has been opened at Delaware to teach women to drive steam locomotives.
